

COOPERATION OFFER

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

Title Microsystems Technology for SME - Made in Germany

Summary

The company is a German SME that develops and manufactures microsystems. From concept to production. In Germany. The company is a one-stop-shop for MEMS technologies. It is the exclusive distributor of GDnano machines for nanoimprint lithography (NIL).

Description

The company is a technology and engineering service provider in the field of microsystems technology and micro-electro-mechanical systems (MEMS), respectively. It does not offer own products, but is a service provider for outsourcing R&D as well as fabricating microsystems, especially on prototype and pre-production level.

The technology centre of the Institute of Micro- and Nanotechnologies MacroNano®, grants the company's staff contractual access to a wide range of technologies. Local industrial contacts offer versatile cooperation options.

The company's services target SME, but also research institutes and research departments of bigger companies.

The company mainly acts as contractor, but is also open to any other type of cooperation/partnership.

Advantages and Innovations

The company has access to a state-of-the-art technology park with more than 1000 <sup>2</sup> cleanroom area. Its employees work only for customer's projects, not for own products. The company is also interested in realizing prototypes and small batches. The concept offered by the company helps customers to minimize initial investments when exploring high-tech approaches.
